COURTS SILENT AND LAWYERS ARE TAKING DAY OFF

Business was at a standstill in the courts today and little, if any, business was transacted. No session of police court was held, and on account of the court rooms at the county court house being occupied as voting places, it was impossible for the fiscal court to meet or any other business to be transacted, except in the clerks' offices where deputies were on duty.

At the sheriff's office, where there has been a rush for several days to pay taxes, there was little doing and one deputy easily waited on the tax payers. The lawyers' offices were also vacant, many of the attorneys working at the polls.

Sudden Fright Over Runaway Kills Henry Yarbrow, Wood Hauler of Mill Street—Found Dying in His Bed

Family Failed to Awaken Him at Noon and Medical Attention Could Do Nothing to Save Him.

Sudden fright over his horse running away is attributed as the cause of the death of Henry Yarbrow, 65 years old, a wood hauler, today at noon. Yarbrow was out hauling wood this morning, and about 10 o'clock his horse was frightened and ran away. Yarbrow was so excited he went to his home on Mill street, and on his daughter's advice went to sleep at 11 o'clock to rest. At noon the family tried to awaken him for dinner. He was breathing his last, and Dr. J. T. Troutman was called. The cause of his death could not be ascertained, but Dr. Troutman believes that it was heart trouble superinduced by the fright this morning.

They are based upon the attempt made to end Colonel Taylor's life, when he escaped from the clutches of the gang. The third set of warrants were those sworn to by Mr. Burdick and charge the parties named with going masked upon the premises of another in the night time. The maximum punishment for this offense is twenty-one years in the penitentiary and the minimum punishment is two years.

FAIR WEATHER AND HEAVY VOTING ALL OVER COUNTRY AND BOTH SIDES CONFIDENT

How Presidential Candidates and President Roosevelt Cast Their Ballots.

EARLY VOTING RULE IN PADUCAH AND COUNTY
PRECINCTS—PRIMARY POLLS RUN OUT OF BALLOTS

Houser's Friends Declare That in All His Country Strongholds Short Supplies of Ballots Were Delivered to Prevent His Supporters Getting Vote Recorded

Reports from every precinct in the city and county are that a tremendous vote is being polled and in many precincts warnings of a shortage in ballots was sent out as early as 9 o'clock in the morning. Especially was this true in the country precincts in the Democratic primary, and some candidates and their friends were openly charging fraud. At Florence Station precinct it was reported that only 15 ballots were sent to that precinct. The cause of the shortage of the ballots in the general election was that the vote in the county at the last general election was extremely light and the estimate was made according to the statute, but 50 per cent was added to the number of votes cast at the last election. It soon became apparent this morning that the vote today would exceed that of the last general election by at least 75 per cent. Besides the shortage of ballots in the primary, general confusion existed at many of the precincts because of the fact that election officers had not been instructed as to their duties. In many precincts no election officers appeared to hold the primary and it was necessary to summon others, which required time and many voters became disgusted and went home after voting in the general election. The general equipment at the voting places of the primary was poor and the crudest sort of voting booths and tables were arranged. There was general complaint as to shortage of stenographers, ink pads and other supplies. As soon as reports began to come in about the shortage of ballots, the county clerk ordered the printer to start the presses, printing extra ballots, which were despatched by special messengers at the earliest possible moment. All the precincts but one that reported a shortage were near the city, but a 16-mile drive was necessary to get the ballots to the Milan precinct. An example of the heavy voting was the report that came from Hovekamp precinct. One hundred and ninety ballots were sent to the general election officers, and at 9:30 o'clock 122 of these had been voted, and it was estimated that there would be 75 more voters than ballots.

Wrote Houser Predictions.
It was the cause of general comment on the streets that every precinct where ballots ran out in the primary were Houser strongholds. Friends of that candidate openly charged it was a scheme of the machine to beat Houser somehow. Extra ballots were procured and friends of Mr. Houser went out in automobiles to the different precincts with a good supply of ballots.

Colored Voters Deceived.
Word was received at Republican headquarters early this morning that many colored voters through force of habit in voting in the circle at the head of the second column on the ballot were stamping their cross marks under the rooster and were voting the straight Democratic ticket. Workers were sent to the polls, but not until it is estimated several hundred had voted that way were they set straight.

This is the first election in twelve years that the Republican party has had the distinction of occupying the first column on the ballot and the illiterate voter, who has become accustomed to voting in the second column, did so this morning, thinking he was voting the Republican ticket.

Louisville, Nov. 3. (Special.)
Reports from all over the state show fair weather and a heavy vote being cast. In Louisville the early vote was heaviest in years.

Big Vote in Daviess.
Owensboro, Ky., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—The biggest vote in the history of Daviess county is being polled. Many precincts ran out of ballots.

Mr. Thomas J. Flournoy, of Rockmart, Ga., is in the city today. Mr. Flournoy came home to vote.

Was Dyspepsia; Trial Is Free

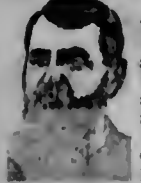

It is a popular mistake that only rich people who eat rich and indigestible foods suffer from dyspepsia, or, as it is also known, indigestion. The laborer in the street, the worker in the field also finds himself a victim of this disorder. Among the very greatest sufferers from it are women.

Dyspepsia is indicated by a constant feeling of lassitude, by loss of appetite and troubled sleep, by sour stomach and distension after eating, by bad complexion and nervousness.

There is no surer and speedier cure for this trouble than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which dyspepsia have been using successfully for twenty years. This great and effective compound cured Capt. Clark, of Buffalo, Ind., of dyspepsia and sour stomach that he had had for forty years, and until the lucky day that he heard of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It cured Capt. Adams, of Montgomery, Ala., after suffering continuously for sixteen months. There are only a few of the many, but it is not expensive to be cured with this and remedy, as it can be bought at any drug store in a 50-cent or $1 bottle.

Your very neighbors are probably using this remedy. If you want to know without expense what it will do for you personally, send your name to Dr. Caldwell and he will be glad to send you a free trial bottle. He is actually anxious to have you make a test of his remedy.

Thousands of families everywhere keep it in the house against such an emergency as constipation, sour stomach, indigestion, biliousness, dyspepsia, heartburn, torpid liver, etc., which may come on a member of the family at any time. It is pleasant to the taste, acts gently and does not gripe. It is the great children's laxative tonic.

Biliousness

"I have used your valuable Cascarets and find them perfect. I didn't do without them. I have used them for constipation, sour stomach, and biliousness and am now completely cured. Recommend them to cure or your money back. I will never be without them in the future." J. A. Davis, Albany, N. Y.

He Had a Fuzzy Feeling. In the soft twilight of summer afternoon mother came upon Young Hopful standing in a brown study by the greenhouse door. His hands were clasped before him and his lips were dejectedly parted.

"Why, what's the matter, lamb?" she asked, bending over him.

"A flaking, maver." "What about, little man?" "Have gooseberries any legs, maver?" "Why, of course not, dearie." A deeper shade fell about dearie's face as he raised his glance to her.

"Then, maver, I've swallowed a caterpillar!"—Harpers Weekly.

Where is John Henry Jones? The police department received a letter today from W. H. Jones, of State Line, that he was searching for his brother, John Henry Jones, who was last heard of in Paducah. He stated they were born in Giles county, Tenn., and that his mother's name was Kate Jones. There are so many Jones' in the city that the police have failed to find John Henry.

I AM A MOTHER

How many American women in lonely homes to-day long for this blessing to come into their lives, and to be able to utter these words, but because of some organic derangement this happiness is denied them. Every woman interested in this subject should know that preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by the use of

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Maggie Gilmer, of West Union, S. C., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was greatly run-down in health from a weakness peculiar to my sex, when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. It not only restored me to perfect health, but to my delight I am a mother."

Mrs. Josephine Hall, of Bardonia, Ky., writes: "I was a very great sufferer from female troubles, and my physician failed to help me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound not only restored me to perfect health, but I am now a proud mother."

UNION UNIVERSITY

WILL PLAY C. C. & W. CLUB ON WEDNESDAY.

One of the Best Football Games of Season Scheduled for Local Gridiron.

The C. C. & W. football team is putting in good work and the team will be strengthened for the hard game Wednesday afternoon with the Union University team of Jackson, Tenn. The university team was defeated Saturday for the first time this year. "It was not because the university team was outplayed," said the Commercial Appeal, "that they were defeated, but it was on a fluke play that had 'whiskers.' The game will be played at League park and one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a football game is expected. The university team is a fast bunch of players and play snappy college football.

The Chess players have a number of new plays and expect to win from the university team. It makes no difference which team wins, the game will be a sure enough gridiron battle from start to finish.

S.S.S. THE REMEDY FOR SORES AND ULCERS

The combination of healthful vegetable ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed, makes it an especially desirable and effective remedy in the treatment of sores and ulcers of every kind. Since an impure condition of the blood is responsible for the trouble, a medicine that can purify the blood is the only hope of a successful cure; and it should be a medicine that not only cleanses the circulation, but one that at the same time restores the blood to its normal, rich, nutritive condition. S. S. S. is just such a remedy. It is made entirely of healing, cleansing vegetable properties, extracted from nature's roots, herbs and barks of the forest and fields. It has long been recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing the qualities necessary to remove every impurity in the blood. When S. S. S. has purified the circulation, and strengthened and enriched it, sores and ulcers heal readily and surely, because they are no longer fed and kept open by a continual discharge into them of irritating disease-laden matter from the blood. S. S. S. brings about a healthy condition of the flesh by supplying it with rich, nourishing blood and makes a permanent and lasting cure. THEATRICAL NOTES

Returns at Kentucky. The management of The Kentucky has made arrangements with the telegraph company to have a special wire installed with an expert operator in charge and complete electric return will be received tonight and shown on a canvas between the acts of the Rosamond Minstrels. The theater will be kept open until 1 o'clock, so that those who desire complete returns may wait and receive them in comfort.

including the following well known artists. Edwin B. Toppin, tenor; George A. Scherer, baritone; and Nicholas Ray, bass, surrounded by a chorus of well trained voices.

Besides seeing this qualified attraction you have an opportunity in getting the election returns just as soon as they are sent into the city.

"Marrying Mary." The part of Mary Montgomery, Florence Gear's role in Edwin Milton Royce's musical play, "Marrying Mary," has been drawn with peculiar boldness of line, precision of touch and clearness of intention. Marrying Mary Montgomery, thrice married and divorced, and with three would-be future husbands dangling at her heels, has no ordinary situations to make much of, and no commonplace of sentiment and diction to confound her striking personality and unique ideas of life and its responsibilities.

The final curtain falls. The climax is strong and exciting, and the story is one that will appeal to all classes of theater-goers, no matter what their station in life may be. The attractions, then and incidental business of the play are of such a nature that

They cannot the individual attention of the spectators. A strong vein of the comedy runs through the play, but it is so placed that never at any time does it conflict with the more serious scenes. The author has been careful to preserve the dramatic method. His characters are finely drawn and as true to nature as possible. In fact, he has taken most of his characters from the "Human Hearts" which he wrote at the Kentucky, and which he wrote at the Kentucky, and which he wrote at the Kentucky.

Tim Murphy. To every person at all conversant with "Human Hearts," the name of Tim Murphy stands prominently forth. Every reader of this enjoyable comedy knows him and has never failed to bring in something pleasant and highly entertaining. This season he comes with another brand new article as far as the stage presentation goes, for he is to be seen in Charles Jeffrey's comedy, "Euphrosyne and the Dollar." In "Euphrosyne and the Dollar," Mr. Murphy offers what is perhaps the most pretentious undertaking he has yet had, for it has certainly so far been his greatest success, and while a powerful dramatic story there has not been omitted the necessary comedy so requisite to a player of his stamp. Mr. Murphy will be at the Kentucky November 13.

"Human Hearts." The mere announcement that "Human Hearts" is coming is a matter of much import to the theatergoers. No melodrama of modern times has enjoyed the success that has been accorded to W. P. Nankoville's solid substantial success, "Human Hearts." The reason is apparent. The play is interesting from the rise of the curtain on the first act until

Daily Thought.

The greatest truths are the simplest; so likewise are the greatest men.—Hilpe.

Mr. Bryan is a fine man.

Scratch a scholar and you'll find a barbarian.

Hurrah for Bill! Knew he'd win.

A man told us his plans the other day and we asked him when he was going to die. He said he didn't know.

But you're sore at the paper, because it doesn't tell how the election is going. Isn't it aggravating? The American press hasn't been developed to that degree yet. There will be a heap of changes made in the official returns tomorrow forenoon, or we lose our guess.

Republicans will look worried and Democrats will be glad up till a late hour tonight. Every return that will come in from the north and east will show Democratic gains. Necessarily so. Take our neighbor Ohio for instance; Roosevelt carried it by 250,- 000. The most sanguine Taft man does not expect more than 50,000 majority. More than 100,000, principally in the cities, will slip from the Republican to the Democratic column and it will just scare us plumb to death for a little while. We may have good reason to be scared, too. We might let more of them slip than we intended to.

MR. BRYAN'S TRUST IDEA.

Mr. Bryan is so much enamored of his percentage plan for determining the vice or virtue of trusts that he seeks to justify it by comparing it with Governor Hughes' limit upon the amount of business an insurance company may do. Surely, he says if Governor Hughes is right in suggesting a limit of 7 1/2 per cent, my 50 per cent limit is generous to a fault.
The point here sought to be made is not to distinguish between the two limits, showing that there is no fair analogy between them, but to elicit a practical and specific example where Mr. Bryan's limit would not protect the community.

A corporation of forty-two stockholders, and with an aggregate capital of $200 paid in, would seem to be as innocent a combination as can be imagined. Yet the Planters' Protective association of Kentucky, according to the evidence in a court proceeding, makes profits amounting up to $200,000 annually. Among anybody would be realized to pay in $4.76 to secure profits realized on a percentage which would make Mr.
Rockefeller pale with envy. Even Mrs. N. E. Greene was able to buy a share, and the association gallantly elected her secretary.

The southern newspapers are manifesting an interest beyond the names of the officers of this particularly prosperous little concern. The Nashville American says:

"This company starts out with an imposition on the state by incorporating a $10,000,000 company on $200 capital and brings about the destruction of a great industry, whips the neighbors, burns buildings, frightens women and children, kills men and destroys cities—Russellville, Hopkins ville, Henderson and Clarksville—in order that the profit heretofore used to sustain the thousands of inhabitants of these cities and their contin-gent communities may go direct to forty-two stockholders in that patriotic organization incorporated as the Tobacco association."

Mr. Bryan will see that the dimensions of this little concern are altogether too modest to bring it within the mesh of the net. And to our suggestion that mere size was no proof of guilt we may now add that neither is mere smallness any proof of innocence. Trusts may be good or bad, but they cannot be differentiated by their dimensions. The giant of the circus cannot be convicted of murder because of his size, nor is murder committed by a Tom Thumb. The suggestion that trusts, like men, should be punished when they are guilty, and not otherwise, is too simple to be worth Mr. Bryan's attention. Without asking so much of him, it would be edifying to have his opinion of the comparative villainy of the tobacco trust, and of these "peace armies" whose night riders terrorize the entire country side in the tobacco and cotton districts.—New York Times.

TRIBUTE TO CHARLES REED.

John H. Gaines, editor of the Park
City Daily News, Bowling Green, Ky., and a former Paducahan, says editorially of the late Charles Reed:

"The editor of the News regrets to learn that Hon. Charles Reed, Paducah's leading hotel man and for eight years the mayor of the city, is dead.
Charles Reed, as he was affectionately called by nearly everybody, was one of the most popular men and most lovable personalities to be found anywhere, was the friend of everybody and everybody was his friend. Truly a good man has passed away."

DEFECTS IN BATTLESHIPSNaval Officer Tells of Newport Conference.

Discussion of Action of Conference
Results in Rather Sensational Statement.

CHARGES OF COMMANDER KEYS

Washington, Nov. 2.—In view of the order of the secretary of the navy revoking the prohibition here recently placed against officers who attended the Newport conference from discussing its action, an officer who was prominently identified with the entire proceedings of the conference, stated that it had substantiated the charges of defects pointed out in Commander Key's letter on that subject, with a few minor exceptions. This officer has been foremost in his denunciation of naval defects.

The conference decided, he stated, that very few of these defects could be remedied in the North Dakota and Delaware, which are now 40 per cent completed, but suggested that if practicable additional case armor of about 100 tons be placed around the smoke pipes and uptakes to protect them against splinters. The armor now being five inches, the additional armor would increase the protection to eight inches. They recommend that if practicable, an additional fire control must be placed forward of the smokestacks so that in case the vision from the rear mast is obscured by smoke, a clear view could be secured from the other position.

The conference also hesitated about making extensive changes in the plans of the Florida and Utah, as the plans of these vessels required five or six months for their preparation, and any change that would involve a change of weights to any considerable extent would require a reconstruction of the plans.

As now designed, the two aft tur-rettes of the Florida and Utah type are on the same level, and it was proposed, if practicable, to raise the second turret. This is proposed because in the event an aft turret, as now designed, being disabled in certain positions, the firing from the second turret would be limited. The weight so added to the second turret from aft could be counterbalanced by lowering the middle turret.

On the important subject of what ought to be the type of the next battleships to be designed, the kind of battery they should carry and their armor, the conference has not made a decision.

Steel Orders Increase.

The United States Steel corporation's statement covering the September quarter, showing earnings of $27,100,274, the best quarterly earnings for the year thus far, more than met anticipations, but in the trade the item of earnings was out-ranked in favorable significance by the item showing the unfilled orders on hand to be 3,421,977 tons, which is an increase of about 100,000 tons by comparison with June 30, and marks the first improvement of the volume of unfilled orders since Dec. 31, 1906, or nearly three years ago. This growth in orders was promised and perhaps in some quarters a heavier increase was expected, but it is a well-known fact that because of the insistence on the maintenance of prices the United States Steel corporation has, since the first of the year, lost a great deal of tonnage to independent concerns which were willing to cut prices. This is especially true of the structural and fabricated branch of the steel trade. In these lines the American Bridge company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, has for months fallen far short of securing its normal proportion of the new orders placed, so that under the circumstances the increase of 100,000 tons in unfilled orders does not fully reflect the improvement in the steel trade which has taken place.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

By the president of the United States—A proclamation: Once again the season is at hand when, according to the ancient custom of our people, it becomes the duty of the president to appoint a day of prayer and of thanksgiving to God.

Year by year the Nation grows in strength and worldly power. During the century and a quarter that has elapsed since our entry into the circle of independent people we have grown and prospered in material things to a degree never known before, and not known in any other country. The thirteen colonies, which struggled along the sea coast of the Atlantic and were hemmed in but a few miles west of tide-water by the Indian wilderness have been transformed into the mightiest republic which the world has ever seen. Its domains stretch across the continent from one to the other of the two great oceans and it exercises domi-
on alike in the Arctic and tropic regions. The growth in wealth and population has surpassed even the growth in territory. Nowhere else in the world is the average of individual comfort and material well-being as high as in our fortunate land.

For the very reason that in material well-being we have thus bounded, we owe to the Almighty to show equal progress in moral and spiritual things. With nation, as with individual, being as an indispensable foundation for the foundation of a nation is itself. That life is wasted and worse than wasted which is spent in piling heap on heap, those things which numbers merely to the pleasure of the body and to the power that rests only on wealth. Then material well-being as a foundation must be raised to the level of the life of the spirit if this nation is properly to fulfill its great mission and to accomplish all that we so ardently hope and desire. The things of the body are good; the things of the intellect better, but best of all are the things of the soul, for in the nation as in the individual, in the long run, it is character that counts. Let us therefore, as a people, set our faces resolutely against evil and with broad charity, with kindness and good will toward all men, but with unflinching determination to smite down wrong, grapple with all the strength that is given us for righteousness in public and in private life.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, do set apart Thursday, the 26th day of November next, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, and on that day I recommend that the people shall cease from their daily work and in their homes or in their churches meet devoutly to thank the Almighty for the many and great blessings they have received in the past and to pray that they may be given strength to order their lives as to deserve in continuation of these blessings in the future.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.
Done at the City of Washington this 31st day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eight and of the independence of the United States one hundred and thirty-third.

It Happened in Church.

A southern clergyman tells the following amusing story:
After the morning sermon one Sunday he had read the notices for the week, and then announced the closing hymn—Number 50—and so. At that moment one of the deacons came down the aisle, and the minister paused to hear what he had to say, which was that the pastor had forgotten to give notice of a meeting of the Index of the congregation.

Accordingly the divine gave the notice, apologized to the congregation for his forgetfulness, and then again announced the number of the hymn, and proceeded to read it. The feelings and those of the congregation may be imagined when he began:
"Lord, what a thoughtless watchman!"—November Lippincott's.

Concerning Drug Stocks!

A large, well selected stock enables us to supply the wants of a greater number of people and those more promptly than if we were handicapped by a small incomplete stock. We find our big stock a very great aid in filling prescriptions, too, enabling us to give what the doctor orders without the delay of sending out for it.

Furthermore, we can often make very low prices on goods in quantity lots.

Old Homestead Florehound Cough Drops

they're the best remedy we know for those slight, but annoying coughs, which almost all of us have these early fall days. Our grandmothers knew their business when they said: "Florehound for light coughs because it's effective yet harmless, being free from drugs; add a little sugar to make it taste good." Old Homestead is the kind grandma built her reputation on.

the large cities are voting heavy and country districts are showing up well.

Northwest.
Chicago, Nov. 3.—The apathy which has marked the campaign is entirely dissipated. An enormous vote is polling. Both sides are claiming the victory. Reports from Cannon's district show a large vote and great interest. Reports throughout the northwest and central states are that voting is light. Both North and South Dakota are light in the rural districts. Michigan is going heavily Republican. Wisconsin shows increased interest because of the fight by La Follette against part of the regular ticket.
In Iowa the senatorial fight overshadows the general result. Kansas is voting heavy. Republicans claim everything.

Fights at St. Louis.
St. Louis, Nov. 3.—Numerous fights and displays of rowdyism marked the early voting. There's a heavy vote throughout the state. Bryan is regarded as sure to carry the state. He has a chance to win the governorship. The senatorial primary is attracting unusual interest. Folk are regarded as having the better of it over Senator Stone for the Democratic nomination. Kerens apparently is the leading Republican.

Light Votes South.
Reports from the south and southwest, Democratic strongholds, indicate a light vote and little interest. Democrats undoubtedly will have a heavy majority in the solid south.

In West Virginia.
Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 3.—Result is doubtful, although both sides are claiming it. There is heavy voting, especially in the rural mining districts. There is considerable scratching.

The President Votes.
Oyster Bay, Nov. 3.—It took Roosevelt fifteen seconds to vote. He had ballot 141. A great crowd at the voting place cheered the president. He immediately started to return to Washington.

John D. Votes.
New York, Nov. 3.—Rockefeller was kept waiting 10 minutes at a Sixth avenue tailor shop. It took a half minute for his ballot to be voted.

For the convenience of its friends, The Sun has installed four 'phones in addition to the ones now in—two of each company—so you should have no trouble in getting connection with the office to get election news.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Beautiful Reception Last Evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis M. Rieke's reception last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Calhoun Rieke, who have just returned from their bridal trip, was a beautifully appointed affair.

The house was charming in the decorations, emphasizing the white and green color motif. The southern sunniness was used with graceful effect throughout the rooms, outlining the windows and doorways. Palms and ferns interspersed with tall vases of white chrysanthemums banked the entrance. In the dining room the table was strikingly beautiful. The centerpiece was an effective arrangement of white chrysanthemums lighted by tiny wax candles about a flat mirror that gave a charming miniature lake effect.

Receiving in the parlor were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rieke and Mr. and Mrs. James Calhoun Rieke. At the door leading into the dining room were Mrs. Frank Rieke and Mrs. John W. Scott. In the dining room were Mrs. May Rieke, Miss Claribel Rieke, Miss Carrie Rieke, Mrs. Little Rieke Boyd, Mrs. Clara Rieke Burnett, Mr. Charles F. Rieke, Mr. William Rieke, Mr. Louis Rieke, Jr., and Mr. Charles Trueheart, received in the hall.

A large number of guests were present during the reception hours from 8 until 11 o'clock.

Gregory-Scott Wedding a Pretty Affair.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Gregory and Mr. Charles Vaughn Scott, of Paducah, took place last Thursday evening, October 29, at 8 o'clock in the Woodland Avenue Presbyterian church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Marshall. The bride's sister, Mrs. R. E. Mellon, of Richmond, was her matron of honor, and Mr. Stewart Sinaott, of Paducah, was the best man. The ushers were Mr. Walter Chick and Mr. Clark Gregory, cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Newton Crawford presided at the organ. It was a white and green wedding, the church being prettily decorated in palms, ferns, and white chrysanthemums. The matron of honor wore white with green trimmings and carried white carnations. The bride's gown was a confection of white messaline, net and lace, and she wore a tulle veil and carried bride roses and lilacs of the valley. Her going-away gown was brown with touches of burnt orange. Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Scott left for a two weeks' trip to New Orleans, Mobile, Atlanta and other southern cities, after which they will take their home in Wilson, N. C. The out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott, and his brother, Master Frank L. Scott, of Paducah; his sister, Mrs. Edwin Hewley, of Fort Worth, Tex.; Mr. Robert Hasset and Mrs. J. B. Hasset, of Lethbridge, Maj. E. B. Hasset, of Hopkinsville; Mr. Emory Dent, of Scottsville, and Mrs. Moorman Hasset, of Jett, Okla.

P. D. C. Chapter Holding November Meeting.
The Paducah chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, is meeting this afternoon at the Woman's club building. Mrs. Benjamin J. Hillings and Mrs. J. J. Herry are the hostesses of the chapter. It is the annual election of officers. The report from the state meeting at Bardonia will be made by Mrs. James Koger, president of the chapter, who attended the convention.

Delphi Club.
The Delphi club met in regular session this morning at the Carnegie library. It was an especially interesting meeting. The Delphi Oracle Ruins at Delphi was graphically described by Miss Carrie Rieke, who visited Greece last year when traveling abroad. Miss Dow Husbands read with sympathetic charm the two poems, Shelley's "Hymn to Apollo" and Mrs. Browning's "Dead Pan." "The Olympic Oracle and Olympian Ruins" was attractively given by Mrs. Saunders A. Fowler.

Sauerberger-Hay Wedding Hous.
The wedding banns of Miss Louise Sauerberger and Mr. Parker Hay were published Sunday at St. Francis de Sales Catholic church. The marriage will take place November 16th, at the parsonage of the St. Francis de Sales church. The Rev. Father H. W. Hansen will perform the ceremony.

Miss Sauerberger is the daughter of Mr. John Sauerberger, 322 South Fourth street and is a popular young woman. Mr. Hay is connected with the Sautier-Gale-Weaver Wholesale Grocery company of Cairo, and is a rising young business man.

Sharp Couple Married.
Miss Annie Sullivan and Mr. Ervin Rudolph, prominent young people of Sharp, were married Sunday by the Rev. Mr. Puge. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for Louisville and other cities on a bridal tour. The bride is a popular young woman and Mr. Rudolph is a prosperous young farmer.

Trip to Metropolis.
Mrs. Artie Ashby, Miss Ethel Mitchell and Doris Bruce, and James Butt, J. M. Elder and A. Lloyd went to Metropolis last evening in the Cutaway.

Eclectic German Doctor's Graft.
A daring and well-planned swindle on a large scale was that executed by a German doctor and his confederates. Near a small village in one of the Lake states lived a western millionaire in seclusion with his little daughter and a few servants. The child was afflicted with a rare cerebro-spinal complaint, a most unpleasant manifestation of which was a frequent bark-like hicough, and eminent physicians, both in America and Europe, had pronounced the case organic and incurable.

Later there came to live in the village a widow with a little girl afflicted similar to the millionaire's daughter. This child was a delicate, flower-faced creature, wasteful from the isolation that must have been her sad lot, and the peculiar bark-like hicoughs which she made at once attracted the millionaire's attention and, being a big-hearted if rather ignorant man, he gave the mother employment about his home and showered the afflicted child with presents.

Perhaps four months after the widow's advent an eccentric German doctor settled in the village, and his services being sought by the widow he gave her child treatment, with the result that it was completely cured. The millionaire sought to place his own daughter under the German's care, but the latter flatly refused to take the case. He was a socialist of a violent type and would have nothing to do with a man whose wealth exceeded the sum that he had fixed upon as the lawful limit of material possession.

Finally, however, after the father had patiently borne the grossest insults, the German agreed to give the afflicted child treatment, on condition that the other world first deed over a large tract of land in Texas for a socialist colony and pay him for his fee a sum little short of $50,000. This the millionaire did, but as soon as the doctor had cashed the check he disappeared with the widow and her child and the wealthy man realized that, blinded by paternal love, he had been made the victim of an insidious swindle.

The flower-faced girl of the widow had been taught to simulate a disease, and the German was no doubt her father. He was subsequently located in Buenos Ayres, but the injured man, not wishing his daughter's affliction published, brooded, dropped the prosecution.—From "The Latest Methods of Graft" in the Bohemian Magazine.

An Easy Shave.
The other day a man walked into a barber's shop, deposited upon a table a number of articles which he took from a satchel, and arranged them with artistic care.

"This is pomade," said the visitor. "I am well supplied," said the barber.

"This is bear's grease," said the visitor. "I am full up with bear's grease," said the barber.

"Here is some fine bay rum," said the visitor. "I am full up with bay rum," said the barber.

"Don't doubt it, but I make my own bay rum and put on foreign labels. Nobody knows the difference," said the visitor.

"Here is some patent cosmetic for the mustache," said the visitor. "I know it is for the mustache, also for the whiskers, and all that, but I'm thoroughly stocked and reeking with cosmetic at present."

"Here are an electric brush, a duplex elliptic hair dye, lavender water, and a patent face powder," said the visitor.

"I don't want any of them," said the barber.

"Then why do you ask me to buy them?" said the visitor.

"I did not ask you to buy them. Did I say anything to you about buying them?" said the barber.

"Come to think about it, yes, you didn't," said the visitor.

"I did not come here to sell anything. I only wish to let you know that I possess all the toilet articles that a gentleman has any business with. Now give me an easy shave without asking me to buy anything."—Everybody's Magazine.

NOTED SONGS RECALLED BY THE WRITER'S DEATH.

Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 3.—Childhood memories will be brought back to thousands by the death here today of the author of "Little Drops of Water" and "Think Gently of the Evening."

Mrs. Julia A. Carney, whose poems are in many church hymnals and have been translated into many languages, breathed her last at noon after an illness that kept her in bed for three months. Besides being sung, some of her poems have been used as recitations for children.

She was born in Lancaster, Mass., April 6, 1823, and spent her girlhood there. She taught school in Boston and Philadelphia. As a child she wrote poetry, and her first poems were published when she was 14.

"Little Drops of Water" was written in 1845 for a Sunday school exercise and was published first in leaflet form. For years Mrs. Carney occupied the poet's corner in the Trumpet and contributed many articles, both prose and poetry, to the Christian Freeman, the Ladies' Repository and other periodicals. In 1849 she married Rev. Thomas J. Carney, a Universalist clergyman, and in 1858 they settled in Galesburg. Mr. Carney died in 1871. She has continued to reside here with her sons, Fletcher and James Carney.

When 71 years of age she wrote "Fill Your Home With Sunshine."

BULLISH NEWS FROM MARKETS

Sends Prices Up Again in Wheat Pit.

Reports of Serious Damage to Argentine Crop—Traders Not Inclined to Plunge Yet.

A SLIGHT ADVANCE IN CATS.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—The wheat market was a tame affair during the early part of last week, but prices advanced later on the bullish news from Argentina. The crop damage reports from South America, which had been generally discounted up to Thursday and prices made a poor response. Thursday and Friday, however, reports came in such form that no one could doubt the serious situation in that quarter and the buying of wheat became active, resulting in advances for the week of 1 1/2 cents for December, 1 1/2 cents for May and 1 1/2 cents for July.

Argentine frost losses and lighter northwestern wheat marketings, two factors that are likely to be of far-reaching importance in the wheat trade, began to develop early in the week. In the event that they progress as indicated by recent cables, it is probable that the wheat trade will soon get out of the rut in which it recently has been running and that the world at large will take more interest in the market. Most of the Argentine news that was indicated when first frost damage reports were received.

Alarming Reports.

As the week progressed the Argentine news became more and more alarming and Thursday the wheat traders had some real alarming reports by way of Liverpool. Broomhall's cables contained a statement that the two largest wheat-producing provinces of that country—Buenos Ayres and Santa Fe—had suffered unexpected damage from the recent freeze. The cable put it even stronger than that, saying that in proportions of these two big provinces an important part of the wheat crop had been ruined. This section raised over one-half of the total wheat crop of that country last year and the news, if confirmed, will be important enough to influence prices in every market in the world.

Broomhall in the official cable estimated the damage to the growing wheat crop at 25,000,000 bushels. A cable from Danvers claimed that the total crop is now reduced 20 per cent by the freeze. An Antwerp cable puts it in another form and declared that the exportable surplus from Argentina promises to be 20 per cent smaller than from the previous crop. There is still a lack of real enthusiasm on the buying side, as the public is not in the market very heavily, and the professional trade still has considerable doubt about the correctness of the damage estimates.

Despite the Argentine losses, however, there has been no material export demand for wheat from this country or from Canada. There were claims early in the week, however, that Canadian exporters were buying November delivery wheat at Winnipeg.

Prices Jump.

Many of the local traders were out of their lines when the bulge started, and there was a very large short interest in the trade. At the start the market was bare of offerings, and prices jumped very quickly. Cornals and houses generally had buying orders to fill. Bates and Rankin were among the best individual buyers. No doubt prices would have advanced more had not the European market acted indifferent to the Argentine crop damage report.

Bullish influences came thick and fast for the wheat trade when they did get started, but they were offset somewhat by a very bullish exhibit by Bradstreet's, giving 4,630,000 bushels increase in world's stocks for the week, compared with a decrease of nearly 1,500,000 bushels for the same week last year. Despite the heavy falling off in northwestern marketings, stocks at Minneapolis increased 675,000 bushels for five days, but this was only about half the increase shown for the same period last year, and the supply of wheat on the cash tables at Minneapolis were a light at one time during the week that millers were obliged to draw on the elevator supplies. There seems to be little question but that the enormous movement has proved a heavy drain on country elevator stocks, which are said to be lighter than ever known at this time of the year. Offerings of wheat to arrive are smaller and the competition between the millers and shippers in the northwest is becoming keener, and Duluth at one time was offering equal to 2 1/2 cents premium over December No. 1 northern to arrive. Messages from the northwest predict that still greater premiums will be paid for cash wheat at Minneapolis.

Southwestern Receipts Drop.

Dispatches from the northwest state that receipts at principal points had fallen away to little or nothing and that Kansas was shipping no wheat at all, marketings coming principally from Nebraska. It was also stated that the soft winter wheat states have not had enough rain to insure a good start for the crop and that the acreage will be short. A leading grain company of Kansas City estimated that farmers have back but 18,000,000 bushels of this year's crop of 73,000,000 bushels in Kansas. Sizing up the situation as a whole, wheat issues are so well defined that the trade practically is in a waiting position. Traders see a tiresome time ahead should supplies—both on ocean passage and at accumulation centers—continue to increase, and there is no improvement in the export demand. Sellers see where their action would prove highly expensive in case there were important developments in any one of several directions. Marked dropping off in northwestern receipts for any settled period would give stimulation to the grain trade the country over and might also affect the trade of the world. Definite disaster to the Argentine or Australian crops would have the same effect.

Rise in Corn.

Wet weather, which checked the movement of corn over the entire belt, and a decrease in the visible supply, were bullish features in the corn trade last week. The market displayed more ginger than it has for some time. Some of the local professionals, impatient of waiting any longer for the decline that was expected before this, were on the buying side, and the May was lifted sharply. Most of the corn traders are willing to wait, however, until it is shown how the market will stand up under liberal receipts of corn. Receipts are becoming very small, averaging about forty cars a day at Chicago, and large arrivals are not looked for for some time. May corn advanced 3/4 cent last week, December 1/2 cent and July 1/2 cent.

Oats were firm all week. There was a good commission house demand in evidence, and this absorbed most of the offerings, while shorts and cash holders were moderate buyers. There was shown a little disposition to sell, but none of the buyers took their profits at the top prices. December oats advanced 1 1/2 cents last week, while May and July took 1 cent.

Provisions Show Strength.

Provisions exhibited considerable strength. Hog prices being high prompted a good volume of investment buying, and almost every commission house executed buying orders. Professionals and stockyard interests believe that the liberal run of hogs now will be at the expense of the movement later in the season. January pork advanced 60 cents for the week, January lard 20 cents and

SHAKE THIS WELL IN A BOTTLE TO MIX

Prescription For Kidney and Bladder Troubles and Rheumatism.

There are more cases of kidney trouble here now than ever before, while recent reports show that more people succumb each year to some form of kidney disease than any other cause.

When there is sickness, examine the urine. If it is thick, it is a symptom of kidney trouble. It is nothing more or less than excessive acid in the blood, which the sluggish, inactive kidneys have failed to sift out, leaving it to decompose and settle about the joints and muscles, causing intense suffering; frequently resulting in deformity; often reaching the heart, when death ensues.

Pain across the back, frequent passing and suppressed urination and other symptoms of weak bladder are not the only signs of kidney trouble; many cases of stomach disease, headache, pain in the heart, inactive liver, etc., are but symptoms; the cause of which can be traced to clogged kidneys.

A simple test of the urine is to add a small quantity in a bottle or glass and let it stand over night; next morning, if there is a reddish-brown sediment, or white fleecy substance present, either consult some reputable physician or take a good vegetable treatment. The following prescription is recommended highly in these cases, and the sufferer can mix it at home: Compound Kidney, one ounce; Fluid Extract of Juniper, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

Where any of the symptoms enumerated above are present, good results are sure to follow immediately the use of this simple prescription.

As a result of the present situation it is likely that another blow may be dealt the turf game by the inauguration of a series of "outlaw" tracks in various states. These courses may give temporary relief to a number of horsemen, but such institutions have always killed the racing game where ever winter racing flourished. The idea is to have a string of such courses in Maryland and West Virginia. Small meetings are talked of for Savannah, but if the game is to be revived this winter to any extent it will have to be on the Texas circuit.

Where the California circuit is alarmed is over the statement that Tammany interests here may decide to start a series of outlaw tracks along the coast. Half-mile "merry-go-rounds" can be built at little cost and unless the legislature wipe out the game next spring they could flourish without interference.

"Big Tim" Sullivan, who was behind the movement to build a track at New Buffalo, Mich., is said to have thought that the western states afford a good opportunity for such a circuit as Washington, Oregon and California have enough cities of important size to support such tracks. By having a free gate they could compete with the larger courses. Sullivan's interest, if any, in such a move would have to be in another's name, however, on account of his connection with tracks under Jockey club jurisdiction here.

In Texas there is a woman who carries on a regular trade in rattlesnakes.

short ribs for January delivery were 25 cents higher.

Packers are suspected of selling a little product on last week's bulge, but the leading longs, who are principally connected with the grain interests, appear to be confident of their position, notwithstanding the heavy receipts of hogs and large packing operations. The quality of hogs are a little better and there does not seem to be any limit to the number coming in. The decrease in the summer packing reported a few months ago has been wiped out, and the aggregate packing now shows a small total for the season.

TIMES FOR TURF

REPORT OF "OUTLAW" MEETINGS MAY MEAN ANOTHER BLOW.

Such Organizations Have Always Resulted in Racing Being Wiped Out.

New York, Nov. 3.—Only two days more remain of racing in New York, and the single ray of hope in the present gloomy situation is found in the fact that the Westchester Racing association and the Coney Island Jockey club have both announced that they will hold meetings next year.

There is a long, hard winter intervening, however, and when January closes its gates and winds up the metropolitan season of 1905 it will leave hundreds of horsemen and horses idle and in want. Few have money with which to ship their stables and if they had there is practically no place to ship to.

Transportation across the continent to prices is prohibitive in cost, and the track is already overcrowded, as is that at Los Angeles. Promises of racing at New Orleans and Hot Springs meet with little confidence. The only hope for the majority of those here is to trust to getting stalls at Latonia, where the outcome of the game is indelible, or to try a chance for the tiny purses on the Florida and state fair tracks. The Texas meeting may be extended, but this is not certain.

As a result of the present situation it is likely that another blow may be dealt the turf game by the inauguration of a series of "outlaw" tracks in various states. These courses may give temporary relief to a number of horsemen, but such institutions have always killed the racing game where ever winter racing flourished. LADY OF THE WHITE HOUSE

Which One Will it be, Mrs. Bryan or Mrs. Taft.

Mrs. Bryan Credited With the Brains of Her Family—Helen Taft Enjoys Amusements.

WOMAN WHO KNOWS BOTH

A woman, who herself is qualified by wit and beauty to rule over the destinies of the white house, writes with interest of the two charming women who are particularly affected by the result of today's battle of the ballots. She enjoys acquaintance with both Mrs. Bryan and Mrs. Taft, making her comment of special value. She writes as follows:

The all-absorbing topic in the cabinet social set in Washington is who shall be the future first lady of the land. Only a few more days will Mrs. Roosevelt be entitled to the honor. After the war of the ballots Tuesday, either Mrs. W. J. Bryan or Mrs. William Taft will succeed to the place which has been so graciously filled by Mrs. Roosevelt during the past six years. It has been many years since the Democrats have had a president, yet none have forgotten the beautiful woman who presided over the social affairs of the white house during Grover Cleveland's terms. Mrs. Cleveland was a favorite throughout the south, known and loved for her sweetness of manner and womanly charm. If Bryan is elected a woman of similar characteristics in some respects will take Mrs. Cleveland's place as a Democratic first lady of the land. Mrs. Bryan is said to be a woman of magnetic personality, and is thought by many to be the peer of her husband in brain power. She is typically western in appearance—large and motherly, with broad, open features that speak of intellect, goodness and great strength of character. Her eyes are especially pretty and all who have met with this interesting lady declare she is "plain in dress, in manner and in appearance, but wholly attractive and charming. If the Democrats win, and Mrs. Bryan becomes mistress of the white house, there will be a debutante in the president's family. Miss Grace Bryan finishes this year at Hollins Institute. She is very much like her mother in appearance. The only son, William Jennings, Jr., is a good looking manly boy, and though rumor declares he is engaged, the young fellow will no doubt form a popular acquisition to the eligibles in the cabinet set. Then, too, the little folks will be represented, for Mrs. Leavitt, Bryan's oldest daughter, makes her home with her parents. She has two interesting children.

Mrs. William Howard Taft. So much for the Democratic family in the white house, but should the Republicans elect their nominee, as equally a charming woman would grace the position of first lady of the land. Mrs. Taft is very striking in appearance, being unusually fine looking. She is a highly cultured woman, a talented musician and a linguist of note. Her private entertainments are always marked with simple elegance and she is regarded as a charming hostess at all times.

Their only daughter, Miss Helen Taft, is yet in her teens, having recently entered Bryn Mawr for her first term. Miss Helen is an attractive girl, lighthearted and always receiving the humorous side of everything. She has lived the walls of her room at college with various cartoons of her father taken during the campaign. Miss Taft is taking a keen interest in the election and has promised her school chums a big spread and a rousing good time next week if "Papa" is elected. She has arranged to receive the news by special wire at the college. As yet it is impossible to tell who will preside at the social functions of the white house, but either Mrs. Taft or Mrs. Bryan will fill the place with credit. They are both true American women, fond of home and children, possessing all the characteristics that go to make a model wife and mother. What more could one ask of even the first lady of the land?

MISSING STUDENT

YOUNG MAN ANSWERING DESCRIPTION FOUND.

W. E. Smith Receives Word From Russellville By Telephone.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 3.—Word received from Russellville this morning leads to the belief that W. E. Smith, the missing State University student, has been found in that place. J. E. Smith this morning received a telephone message from the deputy sheriff at Russellville, stating that a young man answering the description of Smith had been found there. He at first claimed his name was Harrison, but later said he was Harry Smith, and that he had left Lexington, where he had been attending school, about five or six weeks ago, on account of bad treatment at college. The deputy sheriff stated that he had been watching the young man who has been employed in a paint shop for several days, and that he would question him again and notify his brother if he proved to be the missing youth.

TOBACCO NEWS

Hopkinsville Tobacco. Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 3.—Last week's business on the local tobacco market was the best that has been noted for some time.

The Planters' Protective association sold 160 hogheads, this going a long way toward wiping out the balance yet on hand from last year's crop.

On account of the stock being practically exhausted the Society of Equity had a very quiet week.

The same conditions exist with the Planters' Protective association regarding the 1908 crop of tobacco. It is still hanging in the farmers' barns, except in a few instances, where the farmer has decided to prize it himself.

Judging from the failure of several markets to make any report for the week ending October 23, and the decrease in the number of hogheads sold for that period the business of the Planters' Protective association all over the dark district was rather dull. The report is:

A SHRUB THAT NEVER DIES.

The Resurrection Plant Will Live Without Soil or Water.

The resurrection plant is one of the most remarkable creations of nature. It accommodates itself to the changed conditions of climate with a readiness that distinguishes it from all other species of plant life. It is such a curiosity that it is sold by the thousands by criss dealers throughout the country.

The fact is not generally known that practically all of the resurrection plants sold in the United States are obtained from the mountainous region around Alpine, Tex. This is the native home of the remarkable growth. The plants grow in great profusion upon the rocks on the mountain sides at an altitude of 4,000 to 5,000 feet.

A McClum of Alpine, is the resurrection plant king. He inaugurated the business of supplying curio dealers with the plants several years ago, and now has a monopoly of this trade. He will sell about one-half million of the plants this year, and at the rate the trade is growing probably double that number will be disposed of next year.

The resurrection plant is a species of desert vegetation. It is an air and water plant. It grows upon the rocks, but it has few roots and is really a parasite. It flourishes as well in the air as upon the ground, if given plenty of moisture. In dry weather, when the earth is lacking in moisture, the plant becomes brown and shriveled. It has the appearance of being dead. It can be kept in this dry condition for years at a time and then placed in water. Within six hours it has turned green and opened its branches presenting a thrifty, beautiful appearance. Where the resurrection plants grow in profusion they cause a transformation of the appearance of the surface of the country in a few hours after a rain. Vast stretches of mountain sides become green as if by magic touch.

DISTINCTION IN DRESS

You Who Are in Search of Suits and Coats
Will Find Unequaled Values Here.

HUNDREDS of charming styles for your selection here. We show you first all of the style thoughts from Paris. But we never forget the practical street apparel for every day needs. We never forget that though the tendency of the season is toward fancy pockets, broad lapels, empire waist lines, and much elaborate trimmings, many women prefer a conservative street garment without ornamentation. Hundreds of such garments are here.

New Suits Came in Today

Come at once and see the new model at $15, a regular $22.50 suit. Others at $25.00, $29.50 and $49.50. These coats are shown in long and short coated models, made of exquisite broadcloth or wale serge in the diagonal stripe. The lower priced models are to the eye and to the touch equal to $50.00 models.
